
HUNT MALDEN PROWLER WHO ATTACKED GIRL

Attacked from behind and dragged into an alleyway near her home, today, Miss Ida Vidito, twenty-seven, of No. 111 Medford street, Malden, fought a desperate battle with the mysterious prowler, who has attacked several unescorted Malden women during the past few months.

Her assailant was pursued, but eluded capture in the darkness, and the police are searching for him. She was the third woman attacked in Malden in a week and the continued outrages have alarmed women in the city so that the majority fear to leave their homes after nightfall without an escort.

The advantages of wax sealed packages for the protection of prepared food would be two-fold: first, that the evaporation of moisture would be prevented so that the foods originally moist would retain their moisture-- furthermore, dry foods would not take up moisture; and, of course, germ life would be excluded from such packages.

Secretary.

DR. G. H. SUMNER, Secretary Dept. of Health, State of Iowa, says of the WAXTITE package: "It keeps in what should be there, if the food is properly prepared, and keeps out what should not be there."

The new WAXTITE package ensures the delivery of KELLOGG'S TOASTED CORNFLAKES as crisp, fresh and full-flavored as they are when they leave our ovens.

Only ready-to-eat cereal food packed WAXTITE can be absolutely free from moisture, dust or odors.

That is why the Health and Pure Food Officials, named in the next column, are endorsing the WAXTITE package.

Say "KELLOGG'S-WAXTITE" to your grocer whenever you buy breakfast food and look for this signature:

TO HEAR LABOR MEN'S LIGHT PLAN PROTEST TOMORROW NIGHT

Trade union opponents to the five and a half million dollar electric lighting contract are scheduled to have their findings at a special meeting of the City Council executive committee at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

Corporation Counsel John A. Sullivan, the real power behind the throne in attempting to force this contract through, is working desperately to discredit the labor men in the meantime.

With that unceasing cunning that has characterized Sullivan's every underground political move in the past, he seems to realize that if this can be accomplished a majority of the Council may be swung into line for the contract.

Too shrewd to risk antagonizing anyone by making a direct attack on the labor opponents of the measure, Sullivan by every means possible is now trying to discredit the electrical expert employed by these organizations.

FOUR ARE OPPOSED.

Thomas W. Byrne, electrical expert, is acting for the protesting labor men in this capacity, and the trade unionists' arguments against the lighting contract are known to be based almost wholly upon statistics which he has furnished them.

The fact that Mayor Curley previously had asked for Byrne's opinion on the matter, Sullivan now asserts, qualifies him as an unbiased expert. And this while not so much as attempting to prove that Byrne's figures are wrong in any particular.

Councillors John J. Attridge, Walter L. Collins, John A. Condit and Thomas J. Kenny are held to be so strongly opposed to the ratification of the proposed lighting contract, in the present form, that little or no attempt is being made to secure their support.

CRUISING TEN-YEAR CLAUSE.

The ten-year clause of the contract, as drawn, coupled with its failure to make adequate provision for proper cost reductions when new type lamps are installed in the future, also has been criticized by them as highly undesirable under existing conditions.

Councillor George W. Coleman, on the other hand, until recently classed as a mere non-ratification member, appears to be the one man upon whom Sullivan depends to win, Ballistrato, McDonald, Watson and Woods usually being credited as favoring the contract.

Sullivan's attempt to swing Coleman into line may fail in the end, but every artifice known to the underground politician has been brought into play for that purpose, with careful allowance made for the unquestioned integrity of the man whose vote is to win.

Significant is the fact that at this hearing in the Council chamber three parties only are to be given an opportunity to express their views on this five-and-a-half million-dollar lighting contract, the protesting trade unionists, a representative of the Finance Commission and the Edison company itself.

FINAL ACTION IN OCTOBER.

The Chamber of Commerce, and all other semi-public bodies having a vital interest in the matter, are not included in the list of those privileged to be heard, either for or against the lighting contract.

HAPPENINGS IN SOCIETY

BESSIE COLLIER TO BE BRIDE

MRS. FREDERICK CROWNSHIELD HOSTESS

Following the fall wedding will be that of Miss Bessie Bell Collier, a well known musician and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Pomeroi.

Collier, who is to wed William Ellery, also of Brookline, which is to take place at the First Church, Unitarian Church, Boston, July, about the first of October.

An attractive musical program is being arranged for the ceremony. In which members of the Boston Symphony orchestra are expected to take part. John Hamilton will preside at the organ.

Miss Collier is an accomplished violinist and has appeared as soloist on numerous occasions at the Boston Symphony, New Haven, and St. Paul Symphonies. Mr. Ellery is the son of Rufus W. Ellery and the late Sarah Maria (Hudson) Ellery. He is a member of the Exchange Club, Boston Art Club and the B. A. A.

Today is the day of the interesting marriage of Miss Bessie Bell Collier, daughter of the late Rufus W. Ellery and the late Sarah Maria (Hudson) Ellery. He is a member of the Exchange Club, Boston Art Club and the B. A. A.

Mr. John C. Fairchild was a guest at the luncheon given for the Boston Symphony and Mrs. Richmond Newspaper. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Payne Thompson.

Mr. J. Russell Soley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stiles, and many more equally prominent.

Joseph Landon Smith, of Boston gave an illustrated lecture before the Art Association of Newport, Rhode Island, on "The Finest of the Parent of Queen Victoria," the intercession being those of the recent excavations of Egypt made by Theodore M. Davis.

At the close of the lecture Mrs. Arthur Curtis Jones held a reception in honor of Mr. Smith.

Mrs. Frederick Crownschild entertained for the Junior League of St. Paul's Church at Kensington Villa, her suite in Jersey.

Mrs. Thomas B. J. L. Grady of Boston, formerly Laura H. Eaton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry A. Balan, at "The Homestead Cottage," Burlington.

Mrs. Alexander Colburn, who has this season leased her Prince's Cottage villa to the "Pine Whittier" suite for Europe, has just received the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Howard Cushing, at Newport.

F. L. Brier Out for State Secretary

Frank L. Brier of Wyomissing, Pa., announced today his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State. Mr. Brier lives at No. 15 Saratoga street, Dorchester, and was the regular Republican nominee in the bye election in the Twelfth Congressional district last April to fill out the unexpired term of Mayor Curley, when Gallivan was elected.

Suicide before Harem

LEMA ABED DECLARES
VICTIM, July 15.—The sequel of the story of the suicide of Lema Abed, the beautiful seventeen-year-old daughter of Faet Pasha, secretary of ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid, from her husband's harem at Constantinople, is almost as sensational as the cause itself. Notwithstanding the pressure brought to bear upon her, she declared in court, "I am so charmed, I am a woman. Rather than return to tyranny I will seek death at my own hand."

Clean-Up Of our entire stock of fine OUTING SUITS

It's seldom we pick any quarrel with the Weather Man, but this season he switched on the east wind so often that it interfered considerably with our Outing Suit business

But the time has now come when these Suits must go—and some of our good, hard money will go along with them. So any man who can use a first-class, all-wool, finely tailored Outing Suit had better get here as soon as he can, for such an opportunity as this may not happen again right away.
